

Hamming it up ...

Progress (Sherry Slaughter)

John Gaines, from left, and Jack Jehlen watch as Jerry Deadman talks to someone across the world on a ham radio. All three men are technicians with the Amateur Radio Emergency Service who showed up Saturday and Sunday at White Hall Park to allow citizens a chance to come by to see first hand how the radio can reach people across the nation in case of an emergency or disaster.